The Meadow of Dreams

In a meadow full of flowers lives Sunny, a gentle gray elephant with a heart full of curiosity. His best friends are Lila the rabbit, Max the little lion, Ruby the parrot and Oliver the owl. One evening they watch the first stars appear. "What if we could visit the stars?" whispers Lila. Sunny's eyes grow wide. "Then let's go!" he cries. "Together!"

The Shimmering Glow

That night the friends walk to the beach. The waves sing softly and the stars dance on the water. Then Sunny sees something strange: a golden shimmer rising from the sea! "Look!" he cries. The light floats to the sand and becomes... a compass with a starry pointer. "A starlight compass!" says Oliver in wonder. "It shows the way to the stars!"

The Starlight Compass

The compass starts to hum and spin. Whoosh — a rainbow beam of light shoots up into the clouds! From that beam floats down a beautiful hot air balloon, striped in every color of the rainbow. "All aboard!" laughs Max. One by one the friends climb into the basket. Sunny looks up. The compass glows like a tiny sun. "Next stop: the stars!"
